Zinovy worked at INTEA learning technologies as Lead Developer. He worked directly under my supervision and I greatly enjoyed that time. Zinovy showed excellent ability to quickly learn new tech, skills and concepts. He is always takes interest in things beyond development, like user experience, interfaces and even content. He is dedicated to making a better product overall, which is invaluable, given his vast experience in web development. Our team learned a lot.

Personality
Some facts to talk about

Outside of work, I am interested in sports and science (astrophysics and biology). Some scientific patterns — mostly from the life cycle of living cells — were used in programming by me.

I traveled a lot over Europe, mostly on foot and by train. While traveling I worked remotely or participated in local short-term projects. I have worked in Berlin, Munich, Amsterdam, Geneva, France and the Baltic states.
All my reports are well organized like this document. But I am not so strong in verbal communication, please, be gentle.

Stories
Once I made an online store while sitting on a mountain top without a computer. I consulted a client over the phone.

As a new employee, I got the task to fix errors caused by third-party code. When I asked if I should contact a third-party developer, the team-lead replied that this behavior is not accepted in our company. It took me two years to change the company's behavior.

In my book there are the king character representing a software application controller, the fashion model representing a data-model and the cat named Browser representing a view. They are traveling from Lake Head along the Body River to the Great Deploy.
